District 9 covers Inyo County and Mono County (total population 32,748) on the eastern side of the Sierra Nevada County, bordering the State of Nevada. Topographical extremes, geological features, biological diversity, and cultural resources characterize the rural region. Seasonal weather conditions impact the District's highways, from the highest point on a state highway at Tioga Pass (on SR 120 at 9,945 feet elevation) to the lowest elevation in Death Valley National Park (on SR 190 at 242 feet below sea level). Regional transportation agencies include the Mono County Local Transportation Commission and the Inyo County Local Transportation Commission.

TRUCKING

District 9 is responsible for 19 U.S. and state highways, with maintenance and operations responsibilities extending into eastern Kern County and northern San Bernardino County. Goods movement, recreation, and tourism are the major traffic generators along the primary corridors in the district (US 395, SR 14, and US 6).

North-South Routes

US 395, SR 127, SR 266, US 6, SR 158, SR 182
